

ROOSEVELT COMES OUT FOR HUGHES AND GIVES REASONS

Colonel in Statement to Progressive Committee Says Former Justice Meets All Demands of Bull Moose—Declares Wilson Must Be Defeated—No Place at Present for a Third Party.

Col. Roosevelt's Reasons for Supporting Hughes

THE following are the reasons given in by Col. Roosevelt in his statement to the Progressive National Committee for support of Charles E. Hughes for the Presidency:

"In my judgment, the nomination of Mr. Hughes meets the conditions set forth in the statement of the Progressive National Committee, issued last January, and in my own statements. Under existing conditions, the nomination of a third ticket would, in my judgment, be merely a move in the interest of the election of Mr. Wilson. I regard Mr. Hughes as a man whose public record is a guarantee that 'he will not merely stand for a program of clean-out, straight Americanism before election, but will resolutely and in good faith put it through if elected.' He is beyond all comparison better fitted to be President than Mr. Wilson. It would be a grave detriment to the country to re-elect Mr. Wilson.

"I shall, therefore, strongly support Mr. Hughes. Such being the case, it is unnecessary to say that I cannot accept the nomination on a third ticket. I do not believe that there should be a third ticket. I believe that when my fellow Progressives coolly consider the question they will for the most part take this position. They and I have but one purpose—the purpose to serve our common country. It is my deep conviction that at this moment we can serve it only by supporting Mr. Hughes."

CHICAGO, June 26.—Theodore Roosevelt, in a statement to the Progressive National Committee, in session here today, declined to accept the Progressive nomination for President and came out for Charles E. Hughes, the Republican nominee.

Roosevelt declared that Hughes met all the conditions demanded by the Progressives and advised that a national crisis demanded the defeat of Woodrow Wilson for another term.

The latter follows:

In accordance with the message I sent to the Progressive National Convention as soon as I had received the notification that it had nominated me for President, I now communicate to you my reasons for declining the honor which I so deeply appreciate. Since the adjournment of the convention, I have received between two and three thousand letters and telegrams from men who had supported me for the nomination, the majority expressing the desire that I would refuse to run, while a minority urged that I should accept the nomination. As it is a physical impossibility to answer these letters and telegrams individually, I beg of the courtesy of the senders that they will accept this public statement in lieu of such answers.

Before speaking of anything else, I wish to express my heartfelt and most unstinted admiration for the character and services of the men and women who made up the Progressive National Convention in 1915. I can give them no higher praise than to say that in all respects they stood level with the men and women who in 1912 joined at Chicago to found the Progressive Party. These two conventions, in character, in disinterestedness, in vision, in insight, in high purpose, and in desire to render practical service to the people, typified exactly what such bodies ought to be in a great self-governing democracy. They represented the spirit which moved Abraham Lincoln and his political associates during the decade preceding the close of the Civil War.

Praises 1915 Platform.

The platform put forth in 1915 was much the most important public document promulgated in this country since the death of Abraham Lincoln. It represented the first effort on a large scale to translate abstract formulas of economic and social justice into concrete American Nationalism; the effort to apply the principles of Washington and Lincoln to the needs of the United States in the twentieth century. No finer effort was ever made to serve the American people in a spirit of high loyalty to all that is left in the American tradition.

Events have shown that the Progressive party in 1912 offered the only alternative to the triumph of the Democratic party. Moreover, these events have shown that the application of the principles which we then advocated is even more necessary to this nation than we at the time supposed.

The results of the terrible world war of the past few years have now made it evident to all who are willing to see that in this country there must be spiritual and industrial progress, along the lines of efficiency, of loyal service to the nation, and of practical application of the brother's keeper. Furthermore, it is no less evident, that this preparedness for the tasks of peace forms the only sound basis for that indispensable military preparedness which rests on universal military training, and which finds expression in universal obligatory service in time of war. Such universal obligatory training and service are the necessary complements of universal suffrage, and represent the realization of the true American, the democratic ideal in both peace and war.

Principles to Live.

Sooner or later the national principles championed by the Progressives of 1912 met in their general effect be embodied in the structure of our national existence. With all my heart I shall continue to work for these great ideals, shoulder to shoulder with the men and women who in 1912 championed them; and I am sure that these men and women will show a like loyalty to the other, the fundamental, ideals which the events of the past two years have proven to be vital to the permanency of our national existence. The method by which we are to show our loyalty to these ideals must be determined in each case by the actual event. Our loyalty is to the fact, to the principle, to the ideal, and not merely to the name, and least of all to the party name.

The Progressive movement has been given an incalculable impetus by the fact that the Progressive party has done. Our strongest partisans have accepted and enacted into law, or embodied in their party platforms, very many of our most important principles. Much has been accomplished in awakening the public to a better understanding of the problems of social and industrial welfare.

Yet it has become entirely evident that the people under existing conditions are not prepared to accept a new party.

To Hold Convictions.

It is impossible for us Progressives to abandon our convictions. But we are faced with the fact that as things actually are the Progressive national organization no longer offers the means whereby we can make these convictions effective in our national life. Under such circumstances our duty is to do the best we can and not to succumb because our leadership is rejected. That we ourselves continue to believe that the course we advocated was in the highest interest of the American people is a matter from the question. It is unpatriotic to refuse to do the best possible merely because the people have not put us in a position to do what we regard as the very best. It remains for us, good humoredly and with common sense, to face the situation and endeavor to get out of it the best that it can be made to yield from the stand-

MEXICAN NEWSPAPER MAKES BITTER ATTACK UPON U. S.

"Drink Blood in Skulls of Invaders," Says Editorial in Saltillo Semi-Official Organ.

EL PASO, Tex., June 26.—Refugees have brought to the border Mexican newspapers to show to what extent the anti-American feeling has grown. An editorial in La Reforma, a semi-official paper published in Saltillo, captioned "Blood," makes a violent attack upon the United States, its people and its policies, and continues:

"Above all do not forget that at a time of national need, humanity is a crime and frightfulness is a virtue. 'Pull out eyes, snatch out hearts, tear open breasts, drink—if can—the blood in the skulls of the invaders from the cities of Yankee land.' 'In defense of liberty be a Nero, be a Caligula—that is to be a good patriot.'

"Peace between Mexico and the United States will be closed in the throes of terror and barbarism."

TIMID MILITIAMEN STRIPPED

Three Who Refuse to Take Oath Sent Home in Their Underwear.

BALTIMORE, June 26.—Angry because men under them had shown a "yellow streak" in refusing to take the new Government oath, federalizing the militia, company commanders of the Fourth Maryland "Regiment," at the Laurel camp, stripped three members of uniforms and sent them back to Baltimore, a distance of 20 miles, in their underwear.

Earlier the three had been decorated with yellow ribbons.

"DO ANYTHING" NILES KILLED

Aviator Falls While Looping the Loop—Recently Married.

OSHKOSH, Wis., June 26.—Charles "Do Anything" Niles, the aviator, who fell here yesterday while looping the loop, died today. He was 26 years of age and was born at Rochester, N. Y. He is survived by a bride of 10 days.

MISSOURI MILITIA FIRST IN CENTRAL STATES TO MOVE

Departure of St. Louis Organization for Border Within Day or So Seems Assured.

CHICAGO, June 26.—Missouri troops will be the first to leave for the Mexican border from the territory comprising the central department of the United States army, it was announced today at the office of Major-General Barry, in command of the department. Departure of troops from this territory, it was explained, has been delayed because of lack of mustering and medical examination facilities, practically all officers and sergeants having been sent to the border long ago.

No word has been received at central department headquarters as to when the soldiers of the 13 states would leave their mobilization camps, but Gen. Barry sent a message to all State commands urging that they expedite the obtaining of equipment and preparation for field service. It was explained that the troops would move in the order of their preparedness, which was given as follows: Missouri, Wisconsin, Kansas, Illinois, Iowa, North Dakota, Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Wyoming, Colorado, South Dakota and Minnesota.

The following officers among others of the Medical Reserve Corps have accepted the call into active service for temporary duty in connection with the mustering in of troops: Missouri—Wobus, Noyes, Seelig, Harris and Loeb.

U. S. Border Customs Officials Told to Stop All Exports.

DOUGLAS, Ariz., June 26.—U. S. customs officials received instructions today to stop all exports into Mexico, including foodstuffs.

MOB OF STRIKING TAILORS IN NEW YORK JEERS UNION CLUB

"Go Back to Work," Commands Mob.

NEW YORK, June 26.—An interesting incident in connection with the striking tailors' parade last Friday and the jeering of the Union Club by the marchers became known today. There were several thousand of the tailors and their sympathizers, including many anarchists, according to the police, in the line which formed south of Central Park plaza on Fifth avenue and began to march down that thoroughfare.

There were a few women. The men hooted at St. Patrick's Cathedral and many contemptuously threw hats and canes at it. The scramble to recover these articles broke up the parade and turned it into a mob, which stopped in front of the Union Club at Fifty-first street.

"Go back to work," cried a member of the mob, and the crowd, which was ultra swiftness in New York, sticking his fat, bald head out of a window.

"Go to work yourself!" the crowd shouted at him, and he quickly pulled in his head.

FIGHT OVER POSSESSION OF FIRST CHURCH BELL IN VALLEY

Kaskaskia Island Residents Recover Bell After It Had Been Stolen.

The old Kaskaskia Bell, the first prize highly by Bishop Althoff of Belleville, because it was the first church bell that rang in the Mississippi Valley, is being guarded by certain residents of Kaskaskia Island as jealously as is the Liberty Bell watched by Philadelphia. Kaskaskia Island, one of the first settlements in the Mississippi Valley, is in the Mississippi River, opposite Chester, Ill.

A movement to ship the bell to Bishop Althoff at Belleville for safekeeping was halted last week by a writ of attachment, obtained by Catholic parishioners of Kaskaskia Island after the bell had been shipped by ferry boat from the island to Chester. It was returned to the island.

The Bishop told a Post-Dispatch reporter today that he would decide later whether he would take for the bell's safekeeping, and said that better provision must be made than the mere keeping of it in the church belfry on Kaskaskia Island.

ORDERS TO LOCAL ARSENAL INDICATE VOLUNTEER CALL

Directed to Be Ready to Equip 30 Infantry, 10 Cavalry and 4 Field Artillery Regiments Soon.

Preparations for a call for volunteers, in the event of war with Mexico, were indicated by telegraphic orders received today from Washington by Capt. A. E. Williams, in charge of the army equipment depot, at the arsenal, Second and Arsenal streets.

Capt. Williams was directed to be ready, as soon as possible after July 1, to equip 30 regiments of infantry, 10 regiments of cavalry and six regiments of field artillery, in addition to the troops for which he is now providing.

The arsenal force was kept at work all day yesterday preparing supplies for shipment, and five carloads were sent to the Nevada mobilization camp. Bids will be opened at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning in the United States engineer's office in the Custom House Building at Ninth and Olive streets for 4000 gallons of machine oil.

TWO WOLVES ARE LOOSE IN TOWER GROVE PARK

Owner and Park Guards Have Been Hunting Animals for a Week.

Two wolves have been loose in Tower Grove Park for the last week. Park guards and boys of the neighborhood, led by Manuel Cobb of 4044 Castlemaine avenue, have been hunting them.

Cobb obtained the wolves in Illinois and intended to present them to the Zoo. He had them at the home of his brother-in-law, Patrolman Jacob Krinkel, at the Castlemaine avenue address, when they broke open a crate and escaped.

Twice in the last week the wolves have been sighted in Tower Grove Park.

EASTERN MILITIA TO START FOR THE BORDER TODAY

14 Regiments of Infantry, Cavalry and Field Artillery Ordered to Move.

NEW YORK, June 26.—The movement of the national guard from the Department of the East toward the Mexican border will begin today, in response to the appeal of Secretary of War Baker to Maj.-Gen. Leonard Wood urging him to start the troops south as soon as they are reasonably ready.

Massachusetts and New Jersey troops were ordered to train tonight for El Paso.

New York troops have been ordered to leave tonight for Brownsville, Tex., it was announced today at headquarters of the Department of the East. The command to go will be the Seventh, Fourteenth, Forty-seventh and Seventy-first Regiments of Infantry, a squadron of the First Cavalry, one signal corps company, one hospital company, one veterinary company, one ambulance company, one company of engineers, three battalions of field artillery, three field hospital companies and three ambulance companies.

It was stated that railroad officials for New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania, Major-General Leonard Wood, commanding the Department of the East of the United States army, conferred with his entire staff this afternoon. It was reported that another urgent call had been received from Washington that all the state militia in the East be prepared to get away within the 24-hour limit specified by Gen. Wood. The officers said they would be able to get away this afternoon.

About 15,000 additional troops under the command of the Department of the East have been ordered to start for the border tomorrow, it was announced at headquarters.

U. S. DEMANDS THAT CARRANZA TELL WHAT HIS FUTURE COURSE WILL BE

Attitude Toward Expedition, Rather Than Carrizal Affair, to Determine U. S. Action.

EMBARGO ON COMMERCE TO MEXICO CONSIDERED

President Prepares for Possible Joint Session of Congress—Capt. Morey's Letter Construed in Washington as Showing Americans Partly Responsible for Carrizal Affair.

WASHINGTON, June 26.—Gen. Carranza today has one more chance to prevent an open break between the United States and Mexico. Another note sent to him yesterday by Secretary Lansing demands that the 17 American prisoners of the Carrizal fight now held in Chihuahua be released and that the Mexican Government place itself on record concerning its future intentions toward the American forces now in Mexico.

The communication disclosed that Gen. Carranza had admitted in a note received by the State Department issuing orders to Gen. Trevino to attack the American forces moving in any direction except toward the border. In carrying out these orders the attack at Carrizal occurred. Consequently the American Government now considers the de facto President responsible for the attack and gives him a final opportunity to change his attitude.

Secretary Lansing's note reached Mexico City last night and Special Agent Rodgers arranged to deliver it immediately. This was reported in a cablegram from Mr. Rodgers sent last night and received today.

The American Government will insist upon the immediate release of the prisoners captured at Carrizal as demanded in the note, but high officials of the administration explain in interpreting the communication that the course of the United States will be determined by Carranza's final statement of his intentions toward the American expedition in Mexico to protect the border, rather than on the specific circumstances of the Carrizal incident.

American Party in Mexico.

The published text of the letter from Capt. Morey of the Tenth Cavalry was construed here as indicating that the American force was to some extent responsible for the Carrizal clash. Officials noted this fact, but said that an official account from Capt. Morey would be the basis of judgment rather than the hurried note written by a man who was suffering from wounds and thirst.

It was pointed out, however, that Secretary Lansing's note did not found its demands upon a statement that the Mexicans precipitated the fight.

Apparently, the question has no direct connection with the Carrizal incident. The report of Carrizal, the Mexican note saying Gen. Carranza personally directed that Gen. Trevino resist any movement of American troops in Mexico except in retirement toward the border is the real issue. The Washington Government construes this action as a deliberate act of hostility.

It demands that if this is Carranza's purpose, he so state through regular diplomatic channels.

Aside from the diplomatic impropriety of making a subordinate military officer a medium of communication, the State Department recalls instances where the acts of military commanders have been later disavowed by the de facto Government, and it is known that many of Carranza's commanders are not fully under his control.

A virtual embargo on commerce between the United States and Mexico is being considered.

Large forces of militia, sworn in as United States regulars will be on their way to the border within twenty-four hours, army officers said, and these will go on in steadily increased numbers as the week progresses. By Friday or Saturday the United States will be in much better position to strike, if it is decided this is the only course open to solve the dispute with Mexico.

Mediation Not Out of Question.

Chairman Stone of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, Senator Lodge, ranking Republican member, and Chairman Flood of the House Committee on Foreign Affairs, conferred for more than an hour with the President last night and after their call to the Senate.

"We will never have peace down there until we use force enough to compel it," Mediation proposed by Minister Calderon of Bolivia and other South American diplomats, is not being considered seriously by President Wilson or other administration officials, it is thought. This subject was not even mentioned at the conference last night, Senator Stone said.

23 U. S. Soldiers Were Killed at Carrizal; Capt. Morey Escaped

Br Associated Press.

FIELD HEADQUARTERS, Mexico, June 26.—Twenty-three American soldiers are known to have lost their lives on the battlefield at Carrizal, according to a report to Gen. Pershing from Maj. Jenkins, commanding the Eleventh Cavalry, column ordered to search the country in that vicinity for survivors.

The report told of the rescue in safety of Capt. Lewis S. Morey, after he had made a daring stand in the face of heavy Mexican odds and heroic personal sacrifices in an effort to save the lives of his men. Maj. Jenkins said he had evidence that nine American troopers in addition to those previously reported dead had been killed.

A notebook found on the body of Capt. Charles T. Boyd, the American commander who lost his life, in a charge on the Mexican machine gun trench, showed that Gen. Felix Gomez, the Mexican commander, invited him into the town of Carrizal and that he had refused and afterward conferred with Gen. Gomez outside the town.

Neither the notebook of Capt. Boyd nor that of Capt. Morey, both of which were recovered, threw any new light on the clash, according to the report. After the first firing, K Troop, under Capt. Morey's command, took refuge in a nearby gulch but, Maj. Jenkins reported, feeling that they were surrounded and outnumbered by Mexican troops, he ordered his men to leave the gulch in small detachments, that their chances of escape might be increased.

Morey in Hiding.

Capt. Morey, himself suffering with slight wounds, with a few remaining in hiding throughout the day in the gulch, which was within 300 yards of the Carrizal line.

That night the party of four started out in an attempt to make their way back to the headquarters of the Eleventh Cavalry. However, Capt. Morey soon weak from loss of blood that he was unable to walk, and ordered his men to leave him and save themselves.

This they did, but shortly the wounded officer managed to rally enough strength to make his way to the ranch house of an American named McCabe, living about nine miles from Carrizal.

Maj. Jenkins reported that he had found Capt. Morey hidden in McCabe's house and that his wounds were not dangerous.

Upon the receipt of the dispatch Gen. Pershing stated 43 members of the command engaged had been accounted for and that one of them was known to be alive, but lost in the desert.

The remainder of the 84 men who made up the detachment are believed to have been killed or made prisoner.

Thirty-eight stragglers from the Carrizal engagement had reached camp here last night and the number of missing was estimated officially at 15.

NEGRO SURVIVOR SAYS THERE WERE 700 MEXICANS AT CARRIZAL

COLUMBUS, N. M., June 25.—A survivor of the Carrizal engagement, Sgt. H. Harris, a private of C Troop, Tenth Cavalry, was brought to the border yesterday suffering from wounds in his left shoulder and arm. He declared that pitted against the 84 men of the American detachment were fully 700 Mexicans.

"Our troop, with Capt. Boyd commanding, had pulled up before Carrizal," said Harris. "The Captain ordered everyone to dismount and we all got down. I was a horseholder, and I took charge of some animals while the riders stood at attention."

"Just after Capt. Boyd went forward, my horse began to prance around, and I lost what was going on."

"Next thing I knew, the shooting had started. Capt. Boyd was down and I couldn't see him. There were easily 700 Mexicans around us. They had come right out of the ground, forming a half circle. Our men kept on falling."

"The first shot came from a machine gun. It was trained right on us and, believe me, it talked fast."

"It wasn't more than two minutes before the Mexicans had surrounded us."

"I couldn't fight, for I had to keep after those mounts. Pretty soon my own horse, a big fellow, was shot in the neck. Then they hit me in the shoulder."

"I lost control of the animals. My own horse was neighing and tugging on his rope. I could see fellows dropping all around me, and horses were running off, over their bodies."

"I didn't have a shot in the world, and I saw it. I cut the horses loose and climbing on my animal, hit for the thinnest part of the circle."

"That horse was so brave and big-hearted he carried me along for 10 miles before he settled down to walk. Five miles further he was shot."

"It seemed to me I couldn't leave him. I knelt down and poured a little water from my canteen on his tongue. I told him how sorry I was and thanked him for the mighty big favor he done me. He was about gone, and I was bleeding too, and in pain."

"I thanked him again and said 'good-by.'"

"A few miles on I ran on to one of our animals. I jumped him and rode on toward Colonia Dublan. Before I got there I ran into some of our men and we went on together."

Every Train Continues to Bring American Refugees to Vera Cruz.

VERA CRUZ, June 25.—Every train arriving in Vera Cruz brings additional Americans from the interior. The weather is extremely hot and the American refugees are suffering from heatstroke and dehydration.

Vera Cruz is still quiet and fewer Americans were taken on board the Nebraska yesterday than any day in the last week. About 350 civilians are being cared for in the Nebraska. Quiet is reported along the entire east coast.

Americans in the Tampico region will leave Gen. Xafarate, commanding in the zone, having intimated that it would be better if they should do so.

Eight Men in Carrizal Fight Still Unaccounted For, Thought to Be Dead.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., June 25.—Maj. Jenkins' report today of the operations of the relief force of the Eleventh Cavalry, sent out under him to search for the scattered members of C and K troops of the Tenth Cavalry, indicated that its work was complete. He was at the San Luis ranch near Carrizal and his men still were going through the hills along the trails that the dispersed troops followed after the fight with Carranza's men, but there appeared little chance that any others would be found. Eight men remained unaccounted for and the assumption was that they had been killed.

Maj. Jenkins sent to Gen. Pershing a notebook taken from the pocket of Capt. Boyd by a Sergeant when the officer fell in the engagement with the Mexicans. It contained three pencilled notes, one a copy of a report to Gen. Pershing detailing the incidents of his march from the main line to a point near Carrizal; one a copy of the note sent by him to the authorities at Carrizal requesting permission to pass through the town; and the third the note from Gen. Gomez inviting him to enter the town for a conference. In the note sent by him to the authorities Capt. Boyd had explained that his command was on a peaceful mission.

Brief reports from Gen. Pershing early today contained the news that Capt. Morey had been rescued by a detachment of Mexican troops last Sunday.

One of 11 men in the two detachments at Carrizal, one officer and nine men have reached the border, according to Gen. Pershing.

Text of American Note to Carranza Demanding Official Statement of His Intentions

WASHINGTON, June 25.—

THE text of the American note to the Mexican de facto Government, transmitted yesterday to James Linn Rodgers, special representative of the American Government in Mexico City, says:

"Mr. Arredondo yesterday delivered to this Government the following communication:

"I am directed by my Government to inform your excellency through the Carrizal incident that the chief executive, through the Mexican War Department, gave orders to Gen. Jacinto B. Trevino not to permit American forces from Gen. Pershing's column to advance further south, nor to move either east or west from the points where they are located, and to oppose new incursions of American soldiers into Mexican territory. These orders were brought by Gen. Trevino to the attention of Gen. Pershing, who acknowledged the receipt of the communication relative thereto. On the twenty-second instant, as your excellency knows, an American force moved eastward quite far from its base, notwithstanding the above orders, and was engaged by Mexican troops at Carrizal, State of Chihuahua. As a result of the encounter, several men on both sides were killed and wounded and 17 American soldiers were made prisoners."

"You are hereby instructed to hand to the Minister of Foreign Relations of the de facto Government, the following:

"The Government of the United States can put no other construction upon the communication handed to the Secretary of State of the United States on the twenty-fourth of June by Mr. Arredondo, under instruction of your Government, than that it is intended as a formal avowal of deliberately hostile action against the forces of the United States now in Mexico, and of the purpose to attack them without provocation whenever they move from their present position in pursuance of the objects for which they were sent there, notwithstanding the fact that those objects not only involve no unfriendly intention towards the Government and people of Mexico, but are on the contrary, intended only to assist that Government in protecting itself and the territory and people of the United States against irresponsible and insurgent bands of rebel marauders."

"I am instructed therefore by my Government to demand the immediate release of the prisoners taken in the encounter at Carrizal, together with any property of the United States taken with them, and to inform you that the Government of the United States expects an early statement from your Government as to the course of action it wishes the Government of the United States to understand it has determined upon, and that it also expects that this statement be made through the usual diplomatic channels, and not through subordinate military commanders."

STOCKMAN COMES TO BUY STEERS, MEETS GIRL IN BLUE

John McQuitty, 34 years old, a stock raiser near Columbia, Mo., came here June 25 to buy steers. Here is the diary of the events that followed:

June 25—Started out to purchase steers. Met a girl with a blue dress, blue shoes, blue stockings, blue hat and carrying a blue parasol. Didn't buy any steers that day.

June 26—Started out to purchase steers. Met the same girl. Went to the Western Union office and had 25 telegraphed to him from Columbia. Didn't buy any steers that day.

June 27—Started out to purchase steers. Met the same girl. Had 80 telegraphed from home. Didn't buy any steers.

June 28—Started out to buy steers. Met the same girl in blue. Went to the Western Union office and had 10 telegraphed to him. Was told to come back. Returned to the Woodford Hotel, Fifteenth and Market, where he had been stopping. Was arrested there by detectives.

When McQuitty appeared at the telegraph office yesterday to get 100, there, who knew of his previous visits, thought he ought to be looked after and notified the police.

Detectives were sent with McQuitty when he left the telegraph office with instructions to see that he bought his steers today and caught a train for home.

SENATE SUBCOMMITTEE FOR 3-YEAR BUILDING PROGRAM

Original Plan Was for Completion of $500,000,000 Schedule in 1923.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—After a conference today with Secretary Daniels and Navy Department bureau chiefs, the Senate subcommittee considering the naval bill decided to recommend completion of the Navy General Board's $500,000,000 building program in three years.

The original plan provided for completion in 1923. At the conference with Secretary Daniels several alterations in the bill as it passed the House were suggested. The subcommittee already has agreed to recommend the construction of four dreadnoughts and four battle cruisers next year instead of five battle cruisers only, as provided in the House bill.

Department officials made plain that they were anxious particularly that two dreadnoughts be assured. The subcommittee expects to report the bill to the full committee tomorrow and the Senate by Wednesday.

RIGHT DENIED ACCESS TO SUE AS A POOR PERSON

Request Was Made by Lillian Elsie, Wh. Wants $50,000 From J. Paulson Bell.

Circuit Judge John W. McElhinney this morning denied to Lillian M. Elsie, an actress residing in Woodstock, Ill., the right to sue as a poor person, in her $50,000 damage suit against J. Paulson Bell, for an assault which she alleges took place in Sidney, Australia, on Jan. 2, 1914.

On May 6 the Court sustained a motion to have her put up the costs of $75. She was given a specified time to do this, and when the last day of the time expired, which was a week ago last Sunday, she told the Court that she had been unable to obtain the money and asked to be allowed to sue as a poor person.

The effect of the decision is that if the defendant comes in and files a motion to dismiss the case for failure of plaintiff to comply with the order of the Court the case may be thrown out.

FUNERAL OF YUAN SHI KAI

American Ambassador Among Those at Services.

PEKING, June 25.—The funeral of Yuan Shi Kai, late President of the Chinese Republic, took place at the palace today. The body of the late President, Dr. Paul S. Reisch, the American Ambassador, and other members of the diplomatic corps were present at the service, which was chanted by the priests of the Lama. Sacrifices were offered by many officials.

The body of Yuan Shi Kai will be taken from Peking on Wednesday for burial in Chanchow, Hu Nan province.

BOMB IN FEDERAL BUILDING

Paper Used to Wrap Explosives Found to Be Scorched.

NEW YORK, June 25.—What had the appearance of being a bomb, and a time stick of dynamite were found today behind a door of one of the entrances of the Federal building. The paper in which they were wrapped was slightly scorched.

Inspector Owen Egan of the Bureau of Combustibles said the dynamite found in the package was a powerful brand, in the package was wrapped in a dozen buildings. He declared that the scorched paper showed evidence that a fuse had been attached but had burned itself out without reaching the explosive.

FOUR GUARDSMEN ARE HUNTED

Detectives are looking for Private Archibald Case, a member of the Missouri National Guard, who, Sgt. A. F. Mashauser of the Missouri National Guard, last week when the First Regiment was ordered to report.

Case was last employed by the Wiggins Ferry Co., but left no forwarding address. Three other members of the First Regiment are being sought by the police.

FIRST REGIMENT, FULLY EQUIPPED, READY TO MOVE

St. Louis Organization's Departure for Border Within Day or So Seems Assured.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

NEVADA, Mo., June 25.—Assurances received from the headquarters of Brigadier-General Harvey C. Clark last night that the First Regiment of St. Louis would be ready to start for the border early today, there to be joined by the remainder of the brigade and Missouri militia men, seem to make the regiment's departure a practical certainty within the next day or so.

Five carloads of equipment, consisting of uniforms, shirts, shoes, socks and underclothing, arrived yesterday morning from St. Louis. Sufficient equipment to outfit every militiaman at camp up to the army standard is now available, according to Gen. Clark. The St. Louis regiment will be the first to be equipped.

Gen. Clark today visited Major-General Thomas H. Barry, commander of the Central Department at Chicago, that the First Infantry Regiment, the three batteries of artillery, Company A, Signal Corps, First Ambulance Company and the Field Hospital Corps, are ready to entrain for border stations.

No information has been obtained here as to the probable destination of the guard. Officers believe, however, that the troops will not go to Fort San Houston, San Antonio, but to positions on the border.

Gen. Clark last night telegraphed Gen. Barry at Chicago the requirements necessary to move the First Regiment. It will require three special trains of about eight sleeping cars each, with baggage coaches and a palace horse car for the officers' mounts.

Gen. Clark said that railroad officials last night had been notified to hold adequate transportation facilities in readiness. Capt. Morey Reports; Capt. Boyd Fearing Ambush Advanced to Attack; Mexicans Opened Fire

Following is the text of the letter from Capt. Lewis Morey of K Troop of the Tenth Cavalry concerning the fight at Carrizal, which was received by Gen. Funston from Gen. Pershing last night:

Capt. Morey wrote the letter while hiding, wounded, in a hole about 2000 yards from the scene of the fight. He had another wounded man and three unmounted troopers with him. The three unmounted men were picked up by a detachment under Lieut. Henry A. Meyers Jr. of the Tenth Cavalry and the letter brought to Gen. Pershing yesterday.

The three unmounted men carried Capt. Morey, according to their stories to Lieut. Meyer, from the hole where he had hidden two miles from the battle field. Capt. Morey, believing himself hopelessly wounded, ordered them to leave him. They also thought him about to die from loss of blood and thirst and obeyed.

Following is the text of Capt. Morey's letter:

"Carrizal, Mexico, June 25, 9:15 a. m. To Commanding Officer, Ojo San Domingo at 5:30 p. m. June 25. Met Troop C under Capt. Boyd. I came under Capt. Boyd's command and marched my troops in rear for Carrizal at 4:15 a. m. Reached open field to southeast of town at 5:30 a. m."

"Capt. Boyd sent in a note requesting permission to pass through the town. This was refused. Stated we could go to the north, but not east. Capt. Boyd said he was going to Ahumada at this time."

"He was talking with Carranza commander Gen. Gomez sent a written message that Capt. Boyd could bring force in town and have a conference. Capt. Boyd feared an ambush. He was under the impression that the Mexicans would run as soon as we fired."

"We formed for attack, his intention being to move up to the line of about 120 Mexicans on the edge of the town. We formed C Troop on the left in line of skirmishers, one platoon of K Troop on right of line and another K Troop platoon extreme right, echeloned a little to the rear."

"When we were within 300 yards the Mexicans opened fire, and a strong one before we fired a shot; then we opened up. They did not run. To make a long account short, after about an hour's fire in which both troops had advanced, C Troop to position of Mexican machine gun and K Troop closing slightly to left. We saw very faintly the right keeping off a flank attack. A group of Mexicans left town, went around our rear and let our horses loose at a gallop."

"At about 9 o'clock one platoon of Troop K which was on our right flank, Sergeant Smith, he could not stay there. Both platoons fell back about 100 yards to the west and then together with some men of Troop C, who were there, these men scattered."

"I was slightly wounded. Capt. Boyd, a man told me, was killed. Nothing was seen of Lieut. Adair after fight started, so man I saw stated."

"I am hiding in a hole 2000 yards from field and have one other wounded man and three men with me."

"MOREY, Captain."

homestead. It has not been decided what action will be taken toward the men. They are all members of I Company.

Wants to Serve.

Guillermo G. Zermeno, a Mexican and a minister, of 700 Pennsylvania avenue, St. Louis, has written Capt. Jesse Robinson of G Company, First Regiment, asking an opportunity to enter the hospital corps of the national guard.

Zermeno, who says he is an ordained Baptist minister, is "just as much in sympathy with the agrarianism of the United States as any native American." He feels, he says, that he should not take up arms against his native country, but wants to help the wounded. Capt. Robinson said he would try to find a place for Zermeno in the hospital corps.

According to muster officers, the average of rejections in training in the infantry has been remarkably low. The infantry rejections are three per cent and the rejections in the brigade 5 per cent. Most of the rejections are on account of weak eyesight.

Men of the First Regiment have been receiving first-hand information in gentry duty and "guard mount."

The sentries are on duty for the purpose of protection against fire and disorderly conduct of civilians or soldiers. Sentries guard such prisoners as may be confined in the guard tent, and become the traffic squad of the camp. They see that automobiles do not exceed a certain limit of speed. One company, divided into three "reliefs" furnishes the guard for each day. The company Captain is officer of the day and his Lieutenants are officers of the guard. The guard is "mounted" every evening at 8 o'clock. These men walk the posts for two hours, and sleep for four hours each, for 24 hours.

"Grand Mount" Ceremony.

The ceremony of "guard mount" is one of the most impressive in the service. The guard, on the parade ground, is marching and before the officers of the day about to go off duty, then to the guard tent, when it is turned over to the new officer of the day. The guard marches over the line of post relieving the old sentries until the campment is encircled and the guard tent again reached. Here the ceremony is ended and the old guard is dismissed.

The baked beans of A Battery have become noted through the brigade kitchen.

U. S. Coast Artillery Goes to Guard California Border.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 25.—Seven companies of United States coast artillery left here early today for Mexican duty in Southern California. The companies will go to Calexico and the other two to San Diego. California's southern boundary, which the troops will guard is the only stretch of the Mexican line not patrolled by American troops.

MILITIAMAN KILLS HIS PETS

Puts Horse, Two Dogs and Cat to Death Near Fort, Leaves Them With Strangers.

FRANKLIN, N. H., June 25.—Private Ernest Murphy of the Franklin Machine Gun Company, N. H. N. G., came up from Concord and killed his driving horse, two dogs and a cat. Policeman George Butler assisted in the work.

Private Murphy will go with his company to the border, and decided to end the lives of the animals instead of leaving them with strangers. They were buried in one grave in a Prospect Hill pasture.

ACTIVITY ON WEST FRONT 'IMPORTANT,' BERLIN ANNOUNCES

Fighting on British Sector and That Occupied by North Wing of French Army "Has Been So for Past Two Days."

Rome Reports Austrians in Retreat on a 20-Mile Front in the Trentino and Italians Pursuing.

Russians Hold All of Bukovina—Two Allied War Craft Sunk—French Advance North of Verdun.

BERLIN, via London, June 26.—Fighting activity in the western theater, on the front occupied by the British and the north wing of the French army, is important and has been so for the last two days, says the official statement issued today by the German army headquarters.

ROME, June 26.—A general retreat of the Austrians in the Trentino district over a sector about 20 miles in extent is announced in an official statement issued by the Italian War office today. The statement says that the Italians are pressing the pursuit vigorously. The text of the statement follows: "The enemy incapable of overcoming our defense and under the energetic pressure which we have been conducting for several days has been forced to begin a retreat north of the Mandriello road. We have captured the positions of Castel Gamberto, Melette, Mount Longara, Gallo, Asago, Cesuna and Monte Cergio. Our advance continues vigorously close at the heels of the enemy."

RUSSIANS HOLD ALL BUKOVINA

PETROGRAD, June 26.—Russian cavalry, after a battle with Austrian-Hungarian troops, has occupied a position near Pasovitz, about five and a half miles west of Kimpolung, in Bukovina. The foregoing was announced in an official statement issued by the Russian War Office.

Occupation of the entire Austrian crownland of Bukovina is announced by the War Office. The virtual possession of the province was completed by the capture of the town of Kimpolung, in the southern part of Bukovina at the foot of the Carpathians. More than 2000 prisoners were captured.

Russian troops further north are pressing along the Pruth river and have occupied the villages of Kikilkhof and Toulkhof.

The official statement issued yesterday, said: "West of Slatyn on the Pruth, 20 miles northwest of Chernovitz, our troops, fighting as they advanced, occupied the villages of Kikilkhof and Toulkhof."

"On the evening of June 23, the town of Kimpolung was taken after intense fighting. Sixty officers and 2000 men were made prisoners and seven machine guns were captured. In the railway station whole trains were captured."

"With the capture of the towns of Kimpolung and Kuty-Vinita we took possession of the whole of Bukovina."

French Take Park of Trench in a Night Attack. PARIS, June 26.—In a night attack the French captured part of a German trench between Fum and Chenois woods in the Verdun sector. A German attack west of Thiaumont was repulsed according to an official statement issued by the French war office today. A heavy artillery duel is in progress west of the Meuse.

The Germans now three-quarters of a mile from the French lines immediately in front of the fortress of Verdun, but no operation has as yet been undertaken elsewhere to relieve the pressure on the citadel.

This is taken to show that the French command viewing the situation as a strategic whole, looks on the tactical success of the Germans on the right bank of the Meuse as of but momentary significance. Exhausted by the murderous fighting of the last three days the enemy has been forced to pause for breath under cover of the rain of 10 and 12 inch shells with which he has pounded the French lines.

The Germans spent yesterday strengthening their new gains and elaborating plans for the further thrust with the object of working around Souvigny by the northeast from Fleury. The French artillery, however, gave their foe no rest. From Froideferre, Belleville, St. Michel and Souvigny, the French guns concentrated a terrific fire on the German lines and preparations were made to resist the impending onslaught and counter-attack at the right time. There were indications last night that the Germans were preparing to attack also on the left bank of the river. They apparently aim to push forward their lines there to co-operate with their advances on the right and so prevent the French from transferring reserves across the river.

Austrians Admit Retreat Before the Russians. LONDON, June 26.—The Austrian official communication received here admits the falling back of the Austro-Hungarian forces before the Russians, saying: "In Bukovina we have occupied new positions between Kimpolung and Jolofeny. We evacuated the heights south of Bistrice and Wladim without the enemy influencing our action."

have been torpedoed in the Strait of Otranto.

The Citta di Messina, which was being escorted by the Fourche, was the first victim of the submarine. The Fourche later attacked the under-water boat which was submerged, and disappeared. Shortly afterward the Fourche herself was torpedoed. Almost all her crew was saved.

The Fourche was built in 1910 and had a complement of 81 officers and men. The Citta di Messina was a vessel of 3500 tons. She was built in 1910 and carried two 4.6-inch guns and rapid fire. Before the war the Citta di Messina was a merchantman, but belonged to the Italian Naval Reserve.

Germans Fighting Hard to Hold Kovel Junction.

LONDON, June 26.—The greatest battle of the present series on the Russian front is developing in the so-called Kovel salient, according to the latest dispatches from Petrograd. The new places named in the official communication would appear to indicate that the Germans already have made a slight impression on the salient.

The key to the whole situation is the Kovel junction, and gigantic efforts are being made by the Germans to safeguard this vital point. They are massing every available unit there to counter the Russian thrust.

On the direction road at Svidnik the Russians are within 20 miles of the junction, but for 10 days they have been held at that position. The Germans have made even greater efforts to check an indirect approach to Kovel by the southern flank, where for the past week the issue was hung in the balance of Lokatchi, the apex of the whole salient.

The latest war maps show that the Russians are no longer at Lokatchi, the Germans having forced them back from three to six miles on both sides of the road which leads to Vladimir-Volynsk.

The Russians, according to still later accounts, have won back some of this ground. The situation in Bukovina has cleared up with the Russian announcement that the whole of the duchy is now in Russian hands. Thus, in three weeks Gen. Latchinsky has broken through positions fortified like the French front and taken over 40,000 prisoners and added territory of 400 square miles to that controlled by the Russian empire. His victorious army is now fighting in two main directions—first in the far south it is mounting the valley which leads to the Kiriababa Pass of the Carpathians and thence over the Carpathians into Transylvania and second, in the northwest it is striving for the possession of Kolomea, an important railway junction.

Austria's dilemma on the Russian front is made clear by the map which shows that the commencement of the Russian advance she has been compelled to exchange a front line 200 miles long between Pinsk and Rumania for a line 300 miles long.

BULL MOOSE HEAR OF HUGHES' VIEWS AT SECRET SESSION

Seven Committeemen Walk Out, but Return When Meeting Is Opened to Reporters.

CHICAGO, June 26.—The meeting of the National Committee of the Progressive party was called to order today by Matthew Hale of Massachusetts, vice chairman, in the absence of Victor Murdock of Kansas, chairman of the committee.

The committee decided against opening the session to newspaper men by a vote of 55 to 15. John M. Parker led the fight for an open session, and George W. Perkins advocated a closed session, at least for a time. Perkins said he had confidential information for the committee from Hughes out of the position which the Republican nominee takes on various questions.

When it was voted to keep the door shut a number of the committeemen walked out, among whom were John M. Parker, Bainbridge Colby of New York, who nominated Roosevelt in the Progressive convention; Burton Vance of Kentucky; Judge A. D. Norton of St. Louis; J. M. Ingersoll of Idaho; A. T. Moon of Utah and H. F. Cochems of Wisconsin.

Ingersoll said that those who left the hall were opposed to star chamber sessions, did not care to hear any confidential statements from the Republican nominee and would not return to the meeting until the doors were thrown open to all.

At the executive session Chester H. Rowell of California, Raymond Robins of Illinois and James R. Baird of Ohio related to the committee the impressions they had formed at a conference with Hughes in New York. They dwelt on the attitude of the Republican nominee on questions involving labor at considerable length.

Rollers Return. The committee then decided to make the meeting an open one and Col. John M. Parker and the others of the 15 members who withdrew when the report on Hughes' views was started, returned and took their places while the communication from Col. Roosevelt was read. The committee then took a recess for an hour.

The message from Col. Roosevelt announcing his support of Charles E. Hughes was given close attention by the committeemen. Before the meeting was called to order, the delegates discussed the situation among themselves and it was generally considered four courses of action were open:

Shall a third party ticket be put in the field?

Shall Hughes be substituted for Roosevelt on the Progressive ticket or shall Hughes be endorsed?

Shall the committee refuse to endorse any candidate?

Shall the Progressive party organization be continued?

Indications were that the session would continue long enough to thresh out these questions.

Perkins Favors Indorsement. Among those who favored the indorsement of Hughes were George W. Perkins of New York, Chester H. Rowell of California and William Flinn of Pennsylvania.

Opposed to such indorsement were John M. Parker, of Louisiana, vice presidential candidate of the Progressive party; Matthew Hale of Massachusetts, vice chairman, in the absence of Victor Murdock of Kansas, chairman of the committee.

Shortly after the session convened Parker read a telegram he received June 15 from Col. Roosevelt, requesting a conference, and his reply regretting his inability to visit Col. Roosevelt. Parker's message expressed great regret at the retirement of Roosevelt from politics and said he, Parker, would not support Hughes. Parker also expressed willingness to retire from the ticket in favor of a central or Western man should that course seem best.

Two proxies from Tennessee, one holding a card from Committee Chairman Taylor, who was said to have come out for Hughes and to have resigned from the Progressive party and one holding a card from Charles Hauk, who was named to succeed Committee Chairman Taylor, caused some discussion at the meeting.

Virgil G. Hinshaw, chairman of the National Committee of the Prohibition party, was among those active outside the committee room and renewed his offer for the Progressive party to amalgamate with the Prohibition party and attend the Prohibition national convention in St. Paul next month.

Former Gov. Eugene N. Foss of Massachusetts, a candidate for President on the Prohibition ticket, and Daniel A. Polling of Boston, temporary chairman of the Prohibition national convention, were with Hinshaw.

The conservatives claim they will control the committee and asserted that a poll showed that only nine committeemen favored putting a third party ticket in the field.

SARPY C. CABANNE DIES IN THE WEST; WAS 68 YEARS OLD

Member of Old St. Louis Family Thought to Have Contracted Pneumonia From a Cold.

Sarpy Carr Cabanne, 68 years old, of 5566 Vernon avenue, a prominent member of one of St. Louis' oldest families, died of pneumonia, yesterday afternoon, in Los Angeles.

The body is to be brought to St. Louis by a son, Jean Sarpy Cabanne, and a daughter, Emile Maffitt Cabanne, who were with him in Los Angeles for several months past.

He had five sons and four daughters. The sons are Lucien Duthiel of 4515 Berlin avenue; C. Gratot of 4931 McPherson avenue; J. Goode, William Christy and Jean Sarpy. The daughters are Mrs. Sylvester Scovel of the Post-Dispatch staff, Mrs. Austin A. Parker of Fort Leavenworth, Kan.; Mrs. Edwin C. Link and Emile Maffitt Cabanne. Their mother, Mrs. Julia Goode Cabanne, died a year and a half ago.

Sarpy Carr Cabanne was the son of of John Charles Cabanne and was born in the family home near the present Laclede avenue entrance of Forest Park, which was known as the "Pioneer Brick." He was educated in Flushing, L. I. In his earlier years he was greatly interested in athletics and was a prominent part in athletic organizations. He was chairman of the Western Amateur Athletic Union and was one of the founders of the Pastime Athletic Club, which had its clubhouse on Vandeventer avenue.

The funeral probably will be held from the Vernon avenue house. The body is expected to reach St. Louis Wednesday or Thursday.

YOUTH CHARGED WITH KILLING MAN IN FIGHT FREED IN COURT

Prosecutor Recommends Ending Case Against Dudley Mullen, 17, After Presenting State's Testimony.

Dudley Mullen, 17 years old, was freed this morning by Judge Clark of a charge of manslaughter in the fourth degree. Patrick Murphy, 50 years old, 6108 Ella avenue, died June 12 at the city hospital, a few hours after a fight with Mullen, at St. Louis and Burd avenues.

Witnesses testified that Murphy had been drinking, while Mullen, wife of the defendant, was sober and the fight resulted when Mullen resented them. They said Murphy fell after being struck by Mullen and his head struck the curb.

At the conclusion of the evidence by the State, Assistant Circuit Attorney Overall recommended that he be discharged.

POST-DISPATCH MAN AT VOTERS' LEAGUE MEETING

Several Candidates at Secret Session Hear Appeal by Milwaukee Speaker for Defeat of All Catholics in Fall Elections.

For the first time since the organization of the mysterious Independent Voters' League a newspaper reporter last night gained access to one of its meetings for the purpose of throwing light on the league's activities.

The meeting was held in Entertainment Hall, in the Odeon, and was attended by about 150 persons, including about 50 women and 10 children. C. W. Bibb of Milwaukee, Wis., secretary of the American Federation of Patriotic Societies, who said he has "dedicated his life to opposing the Roman Catholic Church," was the only speaker.

The meeting was called by a circular letter sent to all of the league's members, urging them to attend and bring with them as many "good Americans" as possible. The letter announced the meeting would be the opening of the league's campaign for "clean candidates" on all tickets at the November elections.

Similar to the "A. P. A." The Independent Voters' League in St. Louis has been in existence several years. Its activities are similar to those of the American Protective Association, commonly called the "A. P. A.," which operated here about 20 years ago, and was driven out of existence by the revelation of the names of its officers and members.

The Independent Voters' League has since its organization worked in the dark. Its officers are not generally known and its circulars are signed only with the name of the organization. It solicits contributions of money from its members, and these are sent to a post-office lock box, the league's only known address.

Each primary and each election the league sends out printed circulars, promiscuously advising voters to scratch certain candidates because they are Romanists and advising them to vote for others because they are "good Americans."

With one of the letters in his possession, a reporter for the Post-Dispatch went to the hall. Two men were stationed at the door, who required those with whom they were not acquainted to produce membership tickets, printed on blue cards, before they would permit them to enter.

Several of the league members brought friends with them, and it was with a group of such men that the reporter went into the hall. The men who were seemingly in charge of the meeting were unknown to the reporter.

Candidates in Crowd. Among those who entered after the reporter were Charles E. Mohrstadt, City Marshal and candidate for the Republican nomination for Sheriff at the coming primary; Oscar F. Mohrstadt, his brother and chief deputy in his office; George Brand, Clerk of the Probate Court; Erwin G. Oesling, Assistant City Counselor and candidate for Circuit Judge; John A. Fett, member of the Board of Aldermen. These men in each instance came into the meeting alone.

There was a heavy air of secrecy about the hall prior to the introduction of the speaker. The members of the league seemed even to distrust one another, gathering in groups of threes or fours about the hall and carrying on conversations almost in whispers.

Bibb's address was at first on the Roman Catholic church. It was learned by the reporter that it was his second appearance before the St. Louis branch of the league in the last three months.

"I have been fighting the Roman Catholic church for 33 years," he said, "and will continue fighting it as long as I live. The hold this church has upon American government is so great that we are now living with a divided citizenship in this country. We should know only Americanism for America."

Bibb, a small, wiry man, about 50 years old, spoke with a nasal twang. He kept constantly putting on and removing his nose glasses as he talked and waved his arms in gesticulation.

"Every department of this Government, with the possible exception of the Comptroller of the Currency, is controlled absolutely by the Catholic Church," he said. "The Supreme Court of the United States is dominated by it. The Chief Justice of that wonderful and highest tribunal in this country is a Catholic."

Reference to Mexico. The Catholic Church in this country is a power which undermines true American Government. Would we let a foreign nation in the world enter this country and set up among its people here an independent government, in opposition to our own? We would not. "Our officials now place the church above the flag, while they administer an oath to foreigners coming into citizenship here to honor the flag above all else."

"We are going into Mexico to fight the Mexicans. We are going to erect a sacrificial stone in Mexico on which the young manhood of this country, of which there is none better, is to be sacrificed. What for? Because this country has been blinded by the Catholic powers that be that it must go into Mexico and whip the Mexicans so that the Catholic Church may retain its power there. That is the only reason we are going to fight the Mexicans."

Bibb read an editorial he said had been published in the New York Catholic World which said, in part, "A Catholic's duty to the church should be placed before his duty to anything else." He then launched into a vituperative arraignment of the teachings of the church.

"Catholic school is a thing that should be abolished as one of this country's greatest menaces," he said. "I am now working hard to have laws passed in every state to compel all children to attend public schools."

"The Democratic party is dominated by the Catholic Church and is rotten with Popery. You men of St. Louis have a splendid organization here and it is your duty to turn things over in this State by electing Republicans all down the line."

Applause Greeted Bibb. Bibb had been frequently applauded for his utterances, but this rally brought forth a storm of applause and cheering. Two men in the audience emitted whoops and tossed their hats in the air.

"Beat Archbishop Glennon, the political boss of St. Louis," he said, "and beat him good. Work hard and put forth your very best efforts at the coming elections and get the best candidates."

"I want over a list of your candidates today and found that of about 150 in the list the majority of them are dominated by the Catholic Church. That will never do. Wipe them off the lists. You men can do it if you just put forth your best efforts."

Bibb, in one of his references to the Catholic Church, said he wished he could recall the late Father Phelan of St. Louis from purgatory to ask him about some matters pertaining to the church.

A man about 30 years old acted as chairman of the meeting. An attempt by the reporter to learn his name led to the revelation of the latter's identity and the news that a reporter was present spread quickly through the hall. The names of all those in the hall were withheld.

The letter sent out to the members of the league in announcing the meeting held last night was signed only by "The Executive Committee." It contained a request to "be sure and address all communications to A. J. Morrison, P. O. Box 654, St. Louis."

The letter, in part, follows: "For the August primary election we will issue 2,000,000 information ballots to be distributed throughout the entire State of Missouri. As this is a very large task for our St. Louis organization and will be a very heavy strain upon us financially, we are including herewith several subscription lists which we ask that you kindly circulate among your good American friends and secure all signers possible. Ballots will be mailed to every man whose name appears on these lists and we especially call your attention to the fact that we want the names of as many good Americans in the rural district of Missouri as possible. In this connection, if anyone does not desire to sign his name, merely have him write in 'cash' with the amount of his donation, and then personally see that he receives as many of our ballots as he wants. We will, at the proper time, issue enough so that each and every American voter in the State of Missouri should be fully supplied with all the ballots he can use. You can readily see the enormous expense attached to this proposition and trust you will see every good American possible and secure his contribution as there are a great many who are or claim to be in a position where they will not join our organization.

"Our membership is growing beyond expectation, but nevertheless this does not excuse you if you have not secured at least one application in the last month. Do not put it up to the 'other fellow' to do all the work in protecting our free institutions, as it is your duty to do this."

"The Independent Voters' League having become the power for the elimination of machine politicians, these politicians will at this election endeavor to deceive the voters as to who are independent candidates and who are machine candidates. It is, therefore, absolutely essential that you personally get in touch with AT LEAST 20 VOTERS who will know that the information ballot you give them is authentic and not one issued by some Jesuit organization. This emphasizes the extreme importance of getting as many true American members as possible."

MRS. NETTY GREEN IS ILL AT HER HOME IN NEW YORK

Condition Described as Favorable and She Says Only Fear Is Because of Her Age.

NEW YORK, June 26.—Mrs. Nettie Green, "the world's wealthiest woman," who was 70 years old New York, is ill at her home, 7 West Ninetieth street. Her condition was described as very favorable today. Denial was made that she was suffering from a stroke of paralysis.

Col. Edward H. R. Green, her son, said the illness was not serious, but that those attending her realized that any indisposition to a woman of her age might develop seriously.

DARKEN GRAY HAIR LOOK YOUNGER AND PRETTIER

Darkens Gray Hair Evenly—Not a Trace Shows After Applying No Dye and Is Harmless.

You can easily turn every gray hair in your head beautifully dark, particularly the thin ones, gray, streaked or faded, by treating it with Sulphurated Castor Oil. You'll look 35 years younger, and no one will know you've used anything. Every trace of gray hair, no matter how long you've had it, will disappear, and your hair will be evenly dark, beautiful, soft, wavy and lustrous and fascinating. Sulphurated Castor Oil will stop your hair falling and clean out all dandruff. Give it a try. All ready to use when you buy it. Be sure to ask for Sulphurated Castor Oil. It's sold by J. C. F. Dolph, Drug Co., 515 Olive st., 7th and Levee, St. Louis, Mo., or sent by mail post paid.—ADV.

St. Louis Dairy Co's Guaranteed Ice Cream

Let the children have more ice cream!

Ice cream is the most healthful and most nourishing "goody" that youngsters can eat. It is the perfect food refreshment for everybody.

It is the creamiest ice cream you ever put your tongue to—smoother, richer and more delicious, because it contains the high percentage of cream butterfat set by the State and Federal Government Standards.

Every gallon of cream that goes into its making is tested by expert analysts to make certain that the finished ice cream will contain the full legal percentage of butterfat. Whether you buy St. Louis Dairy Company's Ice Cream in brick, bulk, sundae or soda, you get the highest quality ice cream always.

Whenever you see the slogan "St. Louis Dairy Company's Guaranteed Ice Cream" you can be sure that extra good ice cream is sold there. Look for that slogan.

Roosevelt Tells Why He Is for Hughes

This was the situation at the opening of the present year. It was clearly evident that unless a cataclysm occurred the presidential election would result in the choice of either the Republican or the Democratic nominee. The present administration, during its three years of life, had been guilty of shortcomings more signal than those of any administration since the days of Buchanan. From the standpoint of national honor and interest, it stood on an even lower level than the administration of Buchanan. No administration in our history had done more to relax the spring of the national will and to deaden the national conscience.

Third Ticket Not Needed.

Within the Republican party conflicting forces were at work. There were men among the organization leaders who advocated a course of action such as offered no improvement upon the Democratic position, and advocated the nomination of candidates whose election would have represented no improvement upon the continuance in office of Mr. Wilson. If such a course were followed, it would obviously become our duty to run a third ticket, but it was plainly our duty to do everything honorable in order to prevent such a necessity; to do everything short of sacrificing our most sacred convictions in order to secure the alignment under one leadership of the forces opposed to the continuance in power of Mr. Wilson and the Democratic party.

Under these circumstances, the Progressive National Committee, at Chicago, in January, outlined our duty to seek common action with the Republican party, using the following words: "Our people are seeking leadership—leadership of the highest order and most courageous character; leadership that will draft to itself for the country's benefit the unselfish and patriotic services of its ablest citizens. The surest way to secure for our country the required leadership will be by having, if possible, both the Progressive and Republican parties choose the same standard bearer and the same principles."

Repeated His Statement.

Six weeks later, on March 8, in my Trinidad statement, I asked for a similar combination against the Democratic party, on a platform of "clean-cut, straight national Americanism," and for a candidate "who will not merely stand for such a program before election, but will resolutely and in good faith put it through if elected."

This was, in effect, the same statement that I made in my telegram to ex-Senator Jackson, pending the convention, which ran in part as follows: "Can we not, forgetting past differences, now join for the safety and honor of our country, to enforce the policies of genuine Americanism and genuine progressiveness. Surely we can afford to act in accordance with the words of Abraham Lincoln when he said, 'May not all having a common interest reunite in a common effort to save our common country?'"

As far as my own soul is known to me it is in this same spirit that at this time I make my appeal to the Republicans and Progressives assembled at Chicago.

Did Not Favor Third Ticket.

In addition to these public statements, I had also stated my own attitude verbally, and in letters, during the weeks immediately preceding the convention, to scores of leading Progressives from all parts of the country, including many of the leaders at the convention. To these men I expressed my earnest hope that the Republicans would so act as to make it possible for the Progressives to join with them. I stated to them, however, that in view of the attitude of some of the Republican leaders it was at least conceivable that we should be put in a position where our highest duty, our fealty to the country, would demand of us a separate ticket; and that whether in such event it would be necessary for me to head that ticket could not be determined in advance.

I stated in these interviews and in these letters, with the utmost emphasis, that the decision of this point, like the whole matter of running a separate ticket, would have to be determined by what the interests of the country demanded in view of the action finally taken by the conventions at Chicago.

At the time many of the Republican leaders asserted that my statements were not made in good faith; that I really intended to insist upon my own nomination by the Republican convention; and that if I was not so nominated, I intended to accept the Progressive nomination and run on a third ticket. Of course my fellow Progressives were under no such error. They knew that I spoke in good faith and meant exactly what I said. They knew that my utterances were to be accepted at their exact face value as meaning that if the Republicans nominated a man whom we could conscientiously support, we would support him. The Progressive convention came together knowing my public statements, and therefore knowing exactly what my attitude was.

Hughes Meets the Conditions.

In my judgment, the nomination of Mr. Hughes meets the conditions set forth in the statement of the Progressive National Committee, issued last January, and in my own statements. Under existing conditions, the nomination of a third ticket would, in my judgment, be merely a move in the interest of the election of Mr. Wilson. I regard Mr. Hughes as a man who would not merely stand for a program of clean-cut, straight national Americanism before election, but will resolutely and in good faith put it through if elected.

He is beyond all comparison better fitted to be President than Mr. Wilson. It would be a grave detriment to the country to re-elect Mr. Wilson. I shall, therefore, strongly support Mr. Hughes. Such being the case, it is unnecessary to say that I cannot accept the nomination on a third ticket. I do not believe that there should be a third ticket. I believe that when my fellow Progressives coolly consider the question they will for the most part take this position. They and I have but one purpose—the purpose to serve our common country. It is my deep conviction that at this moment we can serve it only by supporting Mr. Hughes.

It is urged against Mr. Hughes that he was supported by the various so-called German-American Alliances. I believe that the attitude of these professions of German-Americans was due, not in the least to any liking for Mr. Hughes, but solely to their antagonism to me. They were bound to defeat me for the nomination. The only way by which they could achieve this object was by supporting him accordingly, without any regard to other considerations.

As to the German-American Alliance, I need hardly repeat what I have already said in stern reprobation of this professional German-American element—the element typified by the German-American Alliances and the similar bodies, who have, in the pre-nomination campaign, played not merely an un-American but a thoroughly anti-American part. These men have nothing in common with the great body of Americans who are in whole or in part of German blood, and who are precisely as good Americans as those of any other ancestry. There are not, and never have been, in all our land, better citizens than the great mass of the men and women of German birth or descent who have been or are being completely merged in our common American nationality; a nationality distinct from any in Europe, for Americans who are good Americans are no more German-Americans than they are English-Americans, or Irish-Americans, or Scandinavian-Americans. They are Americans and nothing else.

No good American, whatever his ancestry or creed, can have any feeling except scorn and detestation for those professional German-Americans who seek to make the American President in effect a viceroy of the German Emperor. The professional German-Americans of this type are acting purely in the sinister interest of Germany. They have shown their eager readiness to sacrifice the interest of the United States whenever one of its interests conflicted with that of Germany. They represent that adherence to the political-racial hyphen which is the badge and sign of moral treason to the republic. I have singled these men out for specific denunciation, and assuredly if I support a candidate it may be accepted as proof that I am certain that the candidate is incapable of being influenced by the evil intrigues of these hyphenated Americans.

Mr. Hughes' character and his whole course of conduct in public affairs justify us in the assured conviction that the fact that these men have for their own purposes supported him will in no shape or way, affect his public actions before or after election. His entire public life is a guarantee of this.

The events of the last three and a half years have shown that as much cannot be said for Mr. Wilson. In Mr. Wilson's case we do not have to consider his words, but his deeds. His deeds absolutely contradict his words; and for the matter of that his words absolutely contradict one another. It is folly to pay heed to any of the promises in the platform on which he now stands in view of the fact that almost every important promise contained in the platform on which he stood four years ago has since been broken.

We owe all of our present trouble with the professional German-American element in the United States to Mr. Wilson's timid and vacillating course during the last two years. The defenders of Mr. Wilson have alleged in excuse for him that he confronted a difficult situation. As regards Mexico, the situation which Mr. Wilson confronted was nothing like as difficult as that which President McKinley confronted in connection with Cuba and the Philippines at the time of the Spanish War.

Under the actual circumstances we could with only a minimum of risk have protested on behalf of Belgium, a small, well-behaved nation, when she was exposed to the last extremity of outrage by the brutal violation of her neutral rights; this violation, being itself a violation of The Hague conventions, to which we were a signatory.

THE LINDELL STORE

 natory Power. As regards the foreign situation generally during the war, the fact of the existence of the war made it far easier and safer for Mr. Wilson to assert our rights than if he had had to deal with some single strong power which was at the time unhampered by war.

Touchee on Lusitania Case.
 During the past 20 years questions have arisen with Powers of the first rank, such as England, Japan and Germany, each of which has necessitated far greater courage, resolution and judgment on the part of the President dealing with it than President Wilson need have shown in order to put a complete stop to the continually repeated murder of American men, women and children on the high seas by German submarines—the Lusitania being merely the worst of many such cases. The same feebleness that was shown by President Wilson in dealing with Germany abroad was also shown by him in dealing with the organized German outrages within our own land, and, finally, in dealing with the organized German-American vote. The continued existence of the German-American menace at home is directly due to Mr. Wilson's course of action during the past two years.

Certain of my friends who feel that the Progressives should run a third ticket base their feeling on objection to the character or actions of the Republican national convention. As regards this point, it is sufficient to say that the members of the Republican national convention were unquestionably induced to nominate Mr. Hughes primarily because of the belief that his integrity and force of character, and his long record of admirable public service, would make him peculiarly acceptable, not only to the rank and file of the Republican party, but to the people generally. I do not believe that Mr. Hughes would have been nominated if it had not been for the fight on behalf of public decency and efficiency which the Progressive party has waged during the past four years.

Crisis in Nation's Life.
 In any event, and without any regard to what the personal feelings of any of us may be regarding the action of the Republican convention, I wish very solemnly to ask the representatives of the Progressive Party to consider at this time only the welfare of the people of the United States. We shall prove false to our ideals and our profession, and in this grave crisis of the nation's life, we permit ourselves to be swayed from the one prime duty of serving with cool judgment and single-minded devotion to the nation's needs. Our own political fortunes, individually and collectively, are of no consequence whatever when compared with the honor and welfare of the people of the United States. Such things do not count when weighed in the balance against our duty to serve well the country in which, after we are dead, our children and our children's children are to live.

The world is passing through a great crisis and no man can tell what trial and jeopardy will have to be faced by this nation, during the years immediately ahead. There is now no longer before us for decision the question as to what particular man we may severally most desire to see at the head of the Government. We can decide only whether during these possibly vital years this country shall be entrusted to the leadership of Mr. Hughes or Mr. Wilson.

Wilson Found Wanting.
 Mr. Wilson has been tried and found wanting. His party, because of its devotion to the outward theory of state rights, and because of its reliance upon purely sectional support, stands against that spirit of far-sighted nationalism which is essential if we are to deal adequately with our gravest social and industrial problems. Mr. Wilson and his party have in actual practice lamentably failed to safeguard the interest and honor of the United States. They have brought us to impotence abroad and to division and weakness at home. They have accustomed us to see the highest and most responsible offices of government filled by incompetent men appointed only for reasons of partisan politics. They have dulled the moral sense of the people. They have taught us that peace, the peace of cowardice and dishonor and indifference to the welfare of others, is to be put above righteousness, above the stern and unflinching performance of duty whether the duty is pleasant or unpleasant.

Yet in Mexico they have failed even to secure the peace which they thus sought; and they have failed in spite of the most ample opportunity and most ample warning, to prepare in any real fashion to meet the crisis which their own policy invited. They have taught us to put "safety first," safety before duty and honor; to put that materialism which expresses itself in money making, and in the faded sense of life, above all spiritual things, above all the high and fine instincts of the soul. They have taught us to accept adroit elocution as a substitute for straightforward and efficient action. They have raised indecision, hesitancy and vacillation into a settled governmental policy.

Plan for Support for Hughes.
 Mr. Hughes has shown in his career the instinct of efficiency which will guarantee that, under him, the Government will once more work with vigor and force. He works with vigor and force. He possesses that habit of straightforward thinking which means that his words will be correlated with his deeds and translated into facts. His past career is the warrant for our belief that he will be the unfaltering opponent of that system of invisible government which finds expression in the domination of the party boss and the party machine. His past career is a guarantee that whatever he says before election will be made good by his acts after election. Morally, his public record shows him to be a man of unflinching integrity. Intellectually, it shows him to be a man of original and trained ability. We have the alternative of continuing in office an administration which has proved a lamentable failure, or of putting into office an administration which will have every reason to believe will function with efficiency for the interest and honor of all our people. I earnestly bespeak from my fellow Progressives their ungrudging support of Mr. Hughes.

 Sagamore Hill, June 22.

Hughes Returns to New York From Summer Home.
 NEW YORK, June 26.—Charles E. Hughes, Republican presidential nominee, returned to New York today from Bridgehampton, where he spent the week-end at his summer home. He planned to continue his conferences here with party leaders in regard to the campaign plans and his speech of acceptance.

NEGRO KILLS 6 OVER A NICKEL
 Wounds Others in Dice Game, Takes His Own Life.

OSCEOLA, Ark., June 26.—Enraged because he had lost a nickel in a dice game with other negroes and inflamed with liquor, Henry Clark, 30 years old, seized a rifle and began shooting into a crowd of negro gamblers in a cablo on a farm near here yesterday. When he finished shooting two negroes and two negroes were dead and four others were wounded, one of whom died later.

Officers from Osceola surrounded Clark in a thicket near the scene of the shooting and he killed himself. The dead include his wife and mother-in-law.

KAISER MAY SEND A NOTE TO PRESIDENT BY SUBMARINE

Madrid Interviewer Is Told of Plan Similar to That Carried Out With Spain.

PARIS, June 25.—A Madrid dispatch to the Temps quotes the Imparcial as reporting that President Wilson will receive a message from the German Emperor in the same manner as did King Alfonso. This statement is included in an interview which the representative of the Imparcial had with the German naval attaché Von Krohn, who declared that the bringing of letters to the King of Spain by a German submarine could not affect Spanish neutrality, which the Germans respect.

Always use it before putting on new shoes. Trial package free. Write Allen S. Olmsted, Le Roy, N.Y.

LONDON, June 25.—A delayed dispatch from Madrid to the Daily Telegraph says that a German submarine was due to arrive at New York on Sunday, June 25, with a message for President Wilson, "thereby surpassing the feat of the U-35, which carried a letter to King Alfonso."

MILITIAMAN ENDS HIS LIFE

Member of Illinois Regiment Cuts Throat in Barracks.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 25.—Private Harvis E. Jones, D Company, Fourth Infantry, killed himself yesterday by slashing his throat with a razor in the center of the barracks of the Fourth and Third Regiments at Camp Dunne, the Illinois mobilization camp. Jones enlisted at Paris, Ill., a few days ago, and gave Owensboro, Ky., as his birthplace. He was 27 years old.

Shortly before noon Jones asked Sergeant S. A. Mopps of D Company if it would be possible to obtain his release, and the Sergeant replied he did not think so. A few minutes later Jones cut his throat. He was rushed to the field hospital, but died before reaching there.

HOW U. S. POLICY IN MEXICO IS VIEWED IN SOUTH AMERICA

Rio Janiero Paper Declares Aims of Niagara Conference Are Violated by Carranza.

RIO JANIERO, June 25.—Commenting editorially on the Mexican situation, the Journal O'Palse supports the policy of the United States, which it thinks sincerely desired to defend its interests, its territory and the lives of its citizens "without making the anarchy in Mexico in any way an excuse for practicing acts of imperialism which would bring about the irreparable bankruptcy of the great authority and confidence the United States enjoys so legitimately in America and elsewhere."

"It is impossible," continued the newspaper, "not to recognize that the aims of the Niagara conference are grossly violated by the Government of Mexico, which persists in lending countenance to acts of violence committed against the most sacred interest of a nation which consented to enter a peaceful agreement instead of preferring to use force and practice acts of imperialism."

"Provisions of Agreement." "This agreement was precisely a measure giving just consideration to the legitimate exigencies of the situation for the United States, respect for its sovereignty, its interests and the lives of its citizens."

"Effort for mediation." It says, "would clash now against double obstacles because the mediators would not have confidence in the honorable accomplishments of the engagements which would be undertaken."

"It is certain," concludes the paper, "that the use of force by the United States against Mexico would raise on the American continent the most vehement protestation. It is impossible to deny also that a painful impression is caused by the incorrigible turbulence of this Latin republic which defies with amazing blindness the dangers resulting from its mad and which continues despite all calls to reason and good sense, plunging toward criminal suicide, into a fight which can only be fatal to her."

The Gazette de Noticias thinks that the United States gives an "excessive extension" to the "right of police" on the continent.

"No country in the world, including the United States," it says, "has been able to go through its evolution or perfect itself without struggles and commotions more or less sanguinary. It is impossible to maintain that violence and a sanguinary spirit are exclusively Latin-American defects. It is more just, more sensible, to recognize in the sanguinary agitations of Latin-America the inevitable stages in the political formation of her peoples. The severity and the contempt which Washington looks upon the revolutions of the neighboring countries are neither just nor Christian."

Civil War a Cruel One. The newspaper recognizes that the civil war in Mexico is a cruel one, greatly prejudicial to that country and a menace to the neighboring people, but it hopes that it is still possible to maintain American peace.

The Journal de Commercio believes that "in the difficult situation in which President Wilson finds himself he will employ all his efforts to solve an unpleasant problem, fraught with misunderstandings and that he will receive, probably with good will all attempts at conciliation. The conduct of President Wilson on the occasion of the complication with Huerta must vouch for his actions in the new phase of the Mexican question."

La Prensa Says U. S. Would Err in Declaring War.

BUENOS AIRES, June 25.—Discussing the Mexican situation, La Prensa says that the United States as a sovereign nation, has the right to defend its interests, but that it must not use force to compel a revolution. It would commit a gross error, however, by declaring war, the paper believes, "as the triumph of the Pan-American policy is preferable to the satisfaction that would be given by a war to exact reparation for an offense that the Mexican people cannot make good because of the anarchy which suppresses the will that only the voice of the constituted powers could express. Upon the United States alone devolves the duty of averting war, as Mexico cannot recognize this obligation because of its state of anarchy."

"The United States must show impartiality, repress armed incursion, and urge that order be re-established in Mexico. It is pointed out that there are 300,000 Spaniards in Mexico who would be unable to carry on business and many of whom would be virtually ruined."

Intervention by the United States, it is asserted, would not be regarded unfavorably by Spain, because early in the Mexican revolution Spanish fugitives were effectively aided by the United States, the Spanish Government itself being unable to act directly.

WIDE INTEREST IN PLAY FOR BENEFIT OF MILK FUND

Large Crowd to See Children Present "A Golden Gift" at Delmar Garden Friday Night.

Children of University City, to the number of about 150, are to contribute the big event in the current week's campaign for the Post-Dispatch Milk and Ice Fund. At Delmar Garden, Friday evening, they are to produce "A Golden Gift," an opera in three acts, under direction of Miss M. Louise Arnold.

To a large number of the people University City the charm of this rich musical work is known, it having been presented at the recent school commencement, and the opportunity to again enjoy the singing, dancing and acting of the small army of girls and boys has so strongly appealed to them that tickets for the repeated and more finished production have been taken in large volume. Few St. Louisans are familiar with the excellent vehicle for the exhibition of the skillfully trained talents of the children, and for them the occasion is one of rare promise.

The theme upon which the opera is constructed is one that lends itself happily to the best efforts of the performers in its musical score and of the girls and boys to whom its interpretation is entrusted. It deals with the beneficent influence of Father Time in putting children in the way of acquiring wisdom and applying it to the duties and pleasures of life, that the fullest measure of profit may be derived therefrom.

Children of University City have manifested their keen concern for the well-being of the babies in the congested districts of the city for several previous seasons, constituting an important force of the organized effort to conserve the health and lives of that vital asset of the city's future, but the benefit to take place Friday evening in the most ambitious ever undertaken by them and the results are likely to vastly exceed what they have accomplished in any former year. Not only are the children devoting their time and energies to bringing their respective parts in the opera to perfection, through daily rehearsals and individual study when these are concluded each day, but they are disposing of tickets with a degree of activity and success that indicates an audience of proportions beyond the capacity of the pavilion in which the entertainment is to be given.

KNOCKED DOWN, ROOM ROBBED

Man Hit on Head by Bottle as He Entered Lodging.
When David Fliegenbaum, 17 years old, entered his room at 2806A Thomas street at 8:45 o'clock last night and started to turn on the gas he was knocked senseless by a blow on the head with a soda bottle.

He was found half an hour later by his brother, Harry Fliegenbaum. The room was turned topsy turvy and $40 was missing from a hiding place in the grate.

Universal Oil and Gas Co. Acquire Additional Leases of Oil Territory.
The Universal Oil and Gas Co. has recently acquired leases of promising oil territory in Ritchie County, W. Va., between two producing oil pools, in which large wells have been drilled. The property was taken over on the geological data obtained from Prof. I. C. White's geological study of the district, which indicates the possibility of securing a new pool of high-grade oil. A test well is being drilled upon this property.

Rioting at Panama Elections.
PANAMA, June 25.—Rioting occurred in the city of Panama yesterday on the occasion of the elections and 18 persons were wounded. There were no foreigners among them. Colon was quiet but one man was killed in the province of Chiriqui.

Train Kills Four in Auto.
DAVENPORT, Ia., June 25.—Four persons were instantly killed and another seriously injured yesterday when a Rock Island passenger train collided with an automobile driven by Dr. H. H. Johnson on the railroad crossing at Wilton, near here. Johnson, Elmer Hine, Charles Moff and Henry Leverens of Princeton, Ia., were killed.

Training Ship in Collision.
NEW YORK, June 25.—The Massachusetts training ship Ranger, according to a wireless report received here today, has been in collision with a British cruiser about 50 miles outside this port. The report said that the damage, if any, was slight. The two vessels exchanged offers of assistance and the Ranger then steamed toward this port to put in at the Brooklyn Navy Yard for repairs.

ORPET'S DEFENSE IS OUTLINED AT TRIAL FOR MURDER

Attorney Wilkerson, Chief Counsel, Dwells on Theory That Marion Lambert Took Own Life.

PROSECUTION IS REVIEWED

Fact That All Evidence Is Circumstantial Emphasized; Acts of Orpet Explained.

WAUKEGAN, Ill., June 26.—That Marion Lambert was suffering from hallucinations for some time before the day she died from cyanide of potassium under the oaks near Lake Forest, that she had ready access to the poison in her high school laboratory and that the powder found on her hand did not necessarily come from a solution of the deadly stuff were salient points in the opening statement for the defense of Will Orpet, made here today by James H. Wilkerson, senior counsel of the University of Wisconsin student.

Wilkerson described the girl as less the happy irresponsible child depicted by the prosecution than the budding woman. He pointed out that she was nearer 14, the age fixed by the law as maturity for women, than was Orpet to 21, the age at which young men are presumed capable of assuming responsibility for their acts. He said evidence would be produced to prove that his client could not have had murder in his mind when he met his school girl sweetheart. The address, in part, follows:

"The indictment is for murder. The prosecution charges that the defendant wilfully administered poison to Marion Lambert. The theory of guilt outlined by the prosecution necessarily involves the accusation that for several weeks before the death of Marion Lambert the defendant had been plotting her murder and that he proceeded carefully and cunningly to carry out his plot.

Evidence All Circumstantial. "The evidence relied upon is circumstantial. No witness has been produced who saw the defendant give the poison to Marion Lambert. No witness is produced who saw the defendant with poison in his possession prior to the death of Marion Lambert. There is no witness who testifies that the defendant obtained from any source any poison prior to the death of Marion Lambert. "It will be helpful to group the circumstances relied upon by the prosecution in the order in which they were presented in the opening statement for the State.

"They are: (1) The physical characteristics of the place where the body of Marion Lambert was found. (2) The mental condition of Marion Lambert. (3) The acts of Marion Lambert for a few days prior to her death. (4) The condition of the body and clothing of Marion Lambert when her body was found. (5) The properties of cyanide of potassium, the poison which caused the death of Marion Lambert. (6) The relation between the defendant and Marion Lambert, including their correspondence. (7) The cyanide in the greenhouse at the place managed by the defendant's father. (8) The cyanide of potassium at the laboratory of the Deerfield High School, which was attended by Marion Lambert. (9) The illness of Marion Lambert on Jan. 14, 1916. (10) The relations between the defendant and Celestia Youker. (11) The acts of the defendant shortly prior to Feb. 9, 1916. (12) The acts of the defendant on Feb. 9, 1916, and shortly thereafter, including the declarations and admissions alleged to have been made by the defendant."

Wilkerson here took up these contentions in order and explained them from the standpoint of the defense. He dwelt particularly upon the alleged condition of Marion Lambert's mind and of her reported threat to a girl friend to end her life if Orpet broke with her. In addition he took up the characteristics of the poison which caused her death, dwelling on the fact that she had access in her school laboratory to poison of this kind and that just before her death she had come to the study of cyanide in her chemistry work.

Not Engaged to Miss Youker. Continuing, he said:

"As to the relations between the defendant and Celestia Youker, it will appear that there was no definite engagement between them to be married in the near future. The defendant was in college, and had nearly two years of his college course ahead of him. He had then his professional education to obtain. It will appear that there is absolutely nothing in his relation with Celestia Youker which could have furnished any motive whatever for the commission of a cold-blooded murder.

"It is inconceivable that if he was planning to commit murder, he should have used the language in the letters which he wrote to Marion Lambert, knowing as he did that Josephine Davis had full knowledge of the relations which had existed between them, and of the fact that he expected to see her. The evidence will show that there was nothing in what the defendant said or did at his meeting with Marion Lambert on Feb. 9, which indicates that he had the slightest intention of giving her any poison. That she took the poison after he had left her; that, attracted by something which she had done, he looked back and saw her lying upon the ground, and when he returned to where she was lying, realizing that she had done something terrible, he lost control over his senses and did the apparently cowardly but extremely natural thing for one of his mental condition and temperament of running away."

ZOO SOCIETY WANTS $150,000 FROM CITY FOR AN AQUARIUM

Has Plan to Spend Part of Mill Tax Paid for Building in Forest Park.

Promoters of a plan to induce the city to spend a part of the United Railways mill tax on the construction of a permanent aquarium in Forest Park have revised their estimate of the cost of this undertaking and will ask for $150,000. Last April, when the mill tax suit was still pending they estimated that the aquarium could be built and stocked for $80,000.

George E. Dieckman, president of the St. Louis Zoological Society, has called a meeting of civic and other organizations for 5 p. m. next Thursday in the rooms of the St. Louis Convention Bureau in the Commercial Building. Dieckman recently visited municipal aquariums in Eastern cities and he says he believes a similar attraction here would add greatly to the popularity of the Forest Park zoo. In New York, he says, the aquarium attracts more persons than any other free exhibition.

Lumber Dealer Is Missing.

The police have been asked to make a search for Clifford Jones, 34 years old, a lumber dealer of Greensburg, Ind., who disappeared here June 16. He came to St. Louis as a visitor to the Democratic national convention with a delegation of "Marshall for Vice President" boosters. He was stopping at the Jefferson Hotel and was last seen in the lobby there. His relatives have not heard from him since.

30,000 Coolies Sent to France. HANOI, French Indo-China, June 26.—It is estimated that about 30,000 natives of French Indo-China with many coolies from Southern China have gone to France since the outbreak of the war. The majority of these men have been taken into the munition factories and the others are serving as soldiers in the French armies.

BABLER RETURNS FROM CONFERENCE WITH HUGHES

Says National Committeemen Will Ratify Candidate's Suggestion as to Chairman.

Jacob L. Babler, Republican National Committeeman for Missouri, returned to St. Louis today after a visit to New York, where he conferred with former Justice Hughes, the Republican presidential candidate, and party leaders, relative to the selection of a chairman of the National Committee.

Babler told a Post-Dispatch reporter today that it was the understanding among the committeemen that the suggestion of Hughes with respect to the selection of a chairman would be ratified by the committee. He said he did not think Frank Hitchcock, who managed Hughes' campaign in Chicago, and who is making an active fight for the chairmanship, would be selected. He said it was generally understood that Hughes would recommend some man who was satisfactory to all factions of the party. Hitchcock started to get delegates for Roosevelt, and finally wound up in charge of the Hughes campaign at Chicago. The Progressive party leaders were led to believe that Hitchcock eventually would deliver the Hughes delegates to Roosevelt.

The Season's Greatest Sale of Summer Dresses

THAT one sentence tells the story, and the verification is here—in these two exceptional groups of Summer dresses. Cold weather has left many a maker with a surplus on his hands, and we found several who were willing to sacrifice their stock rather than risk a further delay. That accounts for the radical reductions that are indicated by these sale prices. Read the descriptions carefully—note the price comparisons—and you'll readily understand why this is the season's Greatest Sale of Summer Dresses. All sizes for women and misses.

No. 1 Dresses That Would Be Priced Regularly from $19.75 to $25, $12.75

WHAT a splendid variety there is! Linens, organdies, crepes, lace and embroidered voiles, and so many beautiful colors and fabric combinations. Every style has a distinctive touch—something unusual in the way of trimming or designing that takes it away from the commonplace. The assortment is so varied that your individual requirements will be fully satisfied—at the very low price of $12.75.

No. 2 Dresses That Would Be Priced Regularly from $29.75 to $39.75, $17

BEAUTIFUL materials in these. Marquisettes, voiles, French crepes and other Summer weaves—plain and embroidered. Net and lace combinations; also with waists of embroidered handkerchief linen and skirts of colored linen. There are many style variations, authentic in every detail, and scores of dainty trimming features that characterize all of the better dresses of the season. In all, a charming group—as dainty and practical as any woman could wish for. $17 is a very low price.

The Big Business-Building Dollar Shirt Sale

Scores of Men Will Profit by the Remarkable Values

IT began this morning—and it comes at the very time when Summer Shirts are most needed. Think of buying $1.50, $2 and $2.50 shirts for $1! And remember, too, that the variety is as noteworthy as the value. There are Jacquard and Russian corded fabrics, novelty silk-striped pongees, and the usual madras shirtings—in more different stripes and color combinations than any St. Louis shirt sale has ever shown before. Every shirt is accurately made, carefully sized, and a "large body" model; and there are styles with both French or laundered cuffs. Sizes 14 to 17½, with 33 to 35 inch sleeve lengths. The sale began with these assortments, and the valuations are accurately stated in these figures:

300 Shirts, French cuffs $2.50 grade
600 Shirts, French cuffs $2.00 grade
2400 Shirts, French cuffs $1.50 grade
2400 Shirts, laundered cuffs $1.50 grade
600 Shirts, laundered cuffs $2.00 grade
180 Shirts, novelty bosoms, $2.50, $3 grades

Take your pick at $1 each—which means that hundreds of men will choose enough to last all Summer—and perhaps longer.

IT'S YOUR KIDNEYS

You have swollen feet and headache, stiff, achy joints! Sharp-shooting rheumatic pains torture you. You have aching back and pain in the lower abdomen. Bright's disease if not checked signals. Trouble is with your kidneys. Uric acid poison, in one form or another, has set in. It may lead to dropsy or fatal Bright's disease if not checked. Get some GOLD MEDAL Haerlem Oil Capsules immediately. They are an aid preparation, used all over the world for centuries, combining natural healing oils and herbs well-known to physicians and used by thousands in their daily practice. The Capsules are not an experimental, make-shift "patent medicine," or "bait," whose effect is only temporary. They are a standard remedy, and are naturally, easily and quickly. But when you go to the drugstore, instead of getting the pure, original Haerlem Oil in Capsules, beware! Many cheap imitations are on the box, and they protect yourself against counterfeits.—ADVERTISING EXPERT

A WOMAN'S APPEAL

To all knowing sufferers of rheumatism, whether muscular or of the joints, who suffer from kidney trouble, and especially the kidneys or neuritic valves, to write repeatedly cured after treatment which has done little good. I feel impelled to send it to all suffering from rheumatism, so that some as thousands will testify—some simple discovery banishes uric acid from the blood, cleanses the system, restores purity the blood and brightens the whole system.
